A day in the life of a typical student

What is a student? A student is a person who gets up early every weekday morning to either ride the bus, drive or walk to school. A student always has books in his locker and has to get them before going to class. One of a student's many past times is talking to his friends before, during and after each class. A student usually has a study hall or enjoys S.I.R. in the commons or the library. After a tiring day of classes, teachers and homework, the student heads home to prepare himself and his homework for his next day of school life.

A day in the life of a typical athlete

What is an athlete? An athlete is a person who keeps in shape by eating well, getting enough sleep and training in his particular field. Getting enough nutritious food and watching snacks helps athletes keep in shape. Sleep is also very important. Athletes have to be home by 10:00 on weekdays and 11:00 on weekends. Athletes are training all year round. They are either outdoors running or indoors in the weight room. An athlete should be a good sportsman. He always goes after a win, but thinks of a loss as good experience. An athlete, be it boy or girl, keeps in good health and is a good sportsman.

A day in the life of club presidents

What is a club president? A club president is a person who takes charge.

He presides over club meetings, organizes committees, attends every meeting held, and discusses plans for the club with the sponsor. In the more active clubs the presidents have many more responsibilities. Being club president is a great responsibility in itself. He must have an interest in the club and always want to improve it. Being a club president can be fun, but it involves a lot of hard work also.

A day in the life of a typical teacher

What is a teacher? First, he is an instructor. Teaching students ideas and morals to help them through life and skills that will get them a job. A teacher is also a person who spends much time grading papers and making up tests. Burning the midnight oil is common because of so many papers. A teacher is also a sponsor for clubs, sports and classes. They help organize parties or money-making projects, keep order and make suggestions. A teacher is also a counselor. Anytime a student has a problem, a teacher is always there to listen and give advice. A teacher is many things: an instructor, a sponsor and a person a student can go to when he has a problem.

HEY! THIS IS

STUDENT LIFE

STUDENT LIFE - Hey, this is Student Life. Participating in Miss Garrett and Miss DeKalb. Homecoming activities. Attending convocations. Getting out of school for snow days. Painter and gaucho pants. The Jr. Hi play, "Finders Creepers". Prom. "Anything Goes" as the all-school production. Carter elected president. New school controversy. All this is Student Life at Garrett High School.

LIFE

"I feel our school doesn't have very much school spirit. The Junior class doesn't, that's for sure. Hardly anyone helps decorate for sectional, a few people show up at games, and at pep sessions, nobody cares. It really disgusts me."

Deanna Bowmar

"I think that the building plans should be started. Everyone knows that they have to be sooner or later, and while we're standing the costs aren't."

Jamie McPheeters

"I think something should be done about the student parking lot. When it snows most of the cars get stuck because it doesn't get shoveled. Also when it rains you sink to your knees in the mud. I think something should be done like getting it paved."

Shannon Derrow

"During the ten days we missed I stayed home and did nothing; that is what I enjoy doing most."

Kim Jensen

"Rocky" Best Picture; Carter 39th President

Motion pictures and television specials offered the American public excellent presentations on numerous topics: "All the President's Men," the story of Woodward and Bernstein's exposure of the Watergate scandals; "King Kong," the $25 million remake of the 1933 classic; "A Star is Born," the remake of a remake starring Barbra Streisand and Kris Kristofferson in the rock-musical tear-jerker; "Network" the story of the television industry's struggle for top ratings; "Rocky," the story of an unknown boxer who gets a once-in-a-million chance to fight the champ.

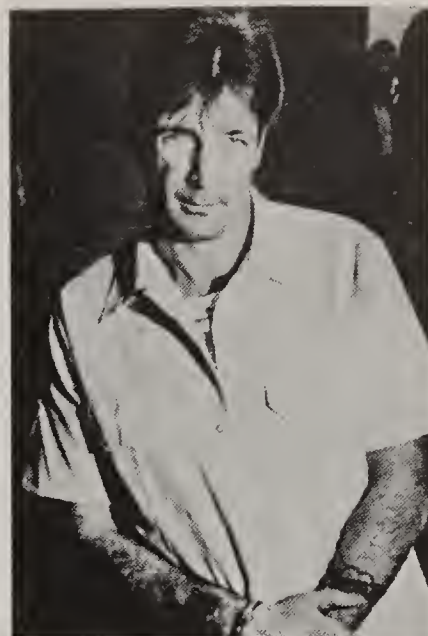

On television, millions of homes tuned in for the T.V. premiere of "Gone With the Wind." Television viewers were offered a rare piece of entertainment with the eight consecutive night showing of "Roots."

"Roots," by Alex Haley, traced his family tree to Africa where his ancestor, Kunta Kinte, was captured and put into slavery. The shows made television history when they received the highest ratings for any show ever on T.V. In May, former President Richard Nixon made his first public appearance since his resignation in a series of interviews conducted by David Frost.

What events that occurred this year have changed not only the nation, but also our lives at Garrett High School?

The presidential election of 1976 proved to be a very close race between President Gerald R. Ford and Jimmy Carter, Governor of Georgia. Carter, who won the Democratic nomination in July, later defeated Ford in the November election.

In April, Carter's Energy Proposal expressed his plans to raise fuel prices and develop a Department of Energy. He also said that a sales tax on gasoline would be enforced if the U.S. exceeded the quota he had previously stated.

There was a swine flu scare which resulted in a national program of immunization. Despite the vaccinations, there was no outbreak of swine flu.

Legionnaires' disease, an odd, pneumonia-like illness caused by a bacterium, killed 29 people at a convention in Philadelphia.

Consumers continued to buy coffee, even when the prices rose to over $5.00 a pound.

A plane crash in the Canary Islands claimed more lives than any other accident in history.

Gary Gilmore, a 36-year old murderer, was executed by a firing squad at the Utah State Prison on January 17. Gilmore was the first person to suffer the death penalty in the U.S. since 1967.

Worst winter ever recorded in this century

The students of Garrett High School got a little relief from the tensions of school due to the severe winter weather in January and February. In all, the students received a total of ten days off. The winter of '77 had a total snowfall of over 26 inches. The record lows were 20-60 degrees below zero. During the storm, students assisted the police in getting food to those people who could not get to the store. Due to popular parent concern about their children missing so many school days, the school decided to make up for lost time by eliminating activity period, field trips, and convocations.

While we were busy shoveling walks, the other side of the United States was trying to get enough water and selling it from vending machines.

The West was having their problems too.

Farrah Fawcett, America's newest sex symbol

A new sex symbol, a new hair-style, and new fashions became fads among the American people.

With the enormous success of television's "Charlie's Angels," Farrah Fawcett-Majors became an instant superstar. Her posters have become the all-time top sellers. Since then her picture has appeared on T-shirts and magazine covers.

Gauchos and painter pants became the fashion crazes among girls, as did the wedge hairstyle made popular by Olympic figure skater, Dorothy Hamill.

“Finders Creepers” brings audience to life

The Jr. Hi presented “Finders Creepers,” directed by Mrs. Beth Grogg and Mrs. Bonnie Miles.

Wilbur Maxwell and Hercules Nelson went to visit Hercules’ uncle, a mortician. Before they went to bed, the body of Mr. Quigley, a rich and elderly man, was brought in. Suddenly the lights go out and Hercules finds the corpse in his bed. The boys turn into detectives and try to find who murdered him. They suspect Quigley’s sister, Madeline and his lawyer, Mr. Schuster, because of the will. After some eavesdropping, the boys find that Dr. Brown, Quigley’s physician, tried to poison him because Madeline wouldn’t marry him.

Sue and Betsy — all smiles and tears

"Sitting there (on stage) in the dark, seeing the audience . . . then the lights came on." That, said Renee Rist, was the scariest part of the Miss Garrett Pageant. A few hours later Sue Griffin was crowned Miss Garrett 1976.

What is it like to be crowned Miss Garrett? "I was shocked," replied Sue, "that's all I felt." First runner-up was Betsy Babbitt. The others who participated were: Susie Gingery, Cindy Walker, Julie Englert, Nancy Fourman, Jody Adams, Cindy Lash, Renee Rist, Judy Woodruff, Shannon Derrow and Ralana Nodine.

Sue wasn't the only one crowned that night. To the tune of "Mame," the girls sang. "You set up millions and millions of chairs, Paul." Mr. Paul Wilmont was crowned King Paul and was given a medallion. Mr. Wilmont, a custodian, retired this year from pageant work and school duties. The girls spent 25 hours on dancing, singing, walking, and smiling. "All that smiling made your mouth twitch," Cindy Walker responded. Was it worth it? "I don't think anyone would have missed it!" affirmed Nancy Fourman.

Fair provides fun for all

The annual Auburn Fair introduced many new projects for the Bicentennial. 4-H had a special project series, the Industrial tent was expanded another full block, and the Mousehole featured "Under New Management."

One of the major events was the Miss DeKalb pageant. Eight girls from surrounding communities, including Sue Griffin and Betsy Babbitt, were judged for personality, charm, beauty and talent.

Sue was announced second runner-up with Kay Warstler from Auburn as first runner-up and Sue Call from Hamilton being crowned Miss DeKalb 1976.

Judy crowned Harvest Queen

The theme was Harvest Queen. With that in mind, Seniors Cindy Lash and Judy Woodruff, Juniors Thoma Lantz and Lisa Ellert, Sophomores Karen McFann and Beth Baker and Freshmen Jodi Piety and Kim Hackworth rode in decorated cars. Each girl was hoping to be chosen Harvest Queen during half-time of the Garrett vs. DeKalb football game.

Winning the honors was Judy Woodruff. She received roses, a crown and kisses from co-captains Randy Smith and Rick McClish. The Senior class won the Best Car award and Garrett beat DeKalb, 8-6.

King added to Queen's Court

Something new was added this year to Basketball Homecoming. Six guys were chosen to compete for the title of King.

The ceremony was held between the varsity girls and boys games. The theme was Majestic Court and the six couples waited on the floor for the announcement.

Renee Morr and Tim Lantz, Majestic Queen and King were congratulated by captains Randy Smith and Mark Martin, Kay Cornell and Linda Schurr.

The Majestic Court ruled over the Angola games. The girls were beaten 47-36 and the boys lost 49-47.

First annual Superstars won by Sophomores

OEA sponsored the first annual "Superstars," in which teams of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors and teachers competed against each other.

The competition started off with a scooter race. Next on the agenda was putting. Each team member got three chances to get a hole-in-one. Five members were selected to compete in a question and answer contest.

Freethrow and the obstacle course finished off the evening.

When the games were done and everyone was nursing their muscles, the points were added up. The final score found the Sophomore team the victors of the "Superstars."

Picnic has good weather, food and swimming

The Junior-Senior picnic got off to a good start with beautiful weather in the middle 80's. As cars arrived, an impromptu football game started, Seniors vs. the Juniors. That game left one casualty, Mike Morsches getting clobbered by his own side. The game broke up to eat. Ham and soft drinks were supplied by the Senior class for the pot-luck meal. Afterwards the Junior girls played the Senior girls in football leaving Karen James as another casualty. Later some went to the beach to play frisbee and others went to get thrown in. "I thought it was fun to get thrown in!", said Dawn Mettert. Another football game started with the Senior boys vs. the Senior girls. The picnic ended with "everyone against everyone for a soft ball game," summed up Linda Wilcoxson.

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow" chosen for '77 Prom theme

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow," past a fountain, down the yellow brick road was the prom, May 7. The total effect of decorating left Paul Reffner "waiting for the munchkins to pop out."

Dinner was catered by Halls, and later punch was served by Burger Chef.

Entertainment was supplied by hypnotist, Dr. Morton Ford, who left his subjects very relaxed.

"All I saw was his, (Matt Herzer's) coat and shoes go flying," said Tim Lantz. Then came the band, "Nantucket." Bob Petcoff "thought the band was neat." Susie Meyers

"thought it was neat when everyone kicked off their shoes and fast danced." Afterwards, pictures were taken, and door prizes were given by local merchants. Students then hurried back for a square dance in the Ober Auditorium, with refreshments supplied by Burger Chef.

"Phantom in Paradise" was shown for a dollar a person at the Gala. Beth Penland "thought the movie was gross." Breakfast followed at the Eagles. Mrs. Carol Schlabach summed it up saying "It was the best prom we've had in years."

S.S. American: Anything Goes

If a glimpse of stocking was shocking, you should have seen Sir Evelyn in his boxer shorts! "Anything Goes" was directed by Mr. Fred Siefers and assistant director Cindy Walker.

Bon Voyage aboard the S.S. American, leaving on a cruise from New York to England. Former evangelist Reno Sweeney and her 5 angels are aboard. Heiress Hope Harcourt, her fiancé Sir Evelyn and Mother Harcourt are happily leaving till Billy sees Hope and plans to break up the engagement. Billy stows away and masters impromptu disguises to avoid his boss, Whitney. Public enemy 13, Moonface Martin, is disguised as a reverend by his moll, Bonnie, while hiding from the FBI. All works out when Moon isn't wanted by anyone, but Bonnie. Mother Harcourt is tempted by Whitney, Billy wins Hope and Reno gets Evelyn to propose, and anything, anything goes!

Spring convo's cancelled by snow days

Convocations this year ranged from rock groups to the crowning of a turkey. Students and faculty rocked to "Under New Management," a group from the Mousehole, and "Freedom Jam," a group from Florida. At the Thanksgiving convo, Dan Hathaway was crowned Turkey of the Year for falling headfirst into a sewer. For Christmas, the band and choir presented songs while Santa Lance Kimmel and his elves, Susie Gingery and Kay Cornell gave gag gifts to teachers. Representative Susie Gingery got dunked by Rick Getts when the Sophomores won the All-Competition pep session.

Convocations and pep sessions came to an end when they were cancelled for the spring to make up for the snow days.

English Class adds make-up

ENGLISH - Additions to the English Department included a new reading course designed to develop the 7th and 8th grade students. Another addition included make-up to the regular English courses.

Baer Field airport, the Museum of Science and Industry, and historic sites of Fort Wayne were the settings of field trips for small remedial English classes. The students made all plans for the trips through their teachers.

Upon return, they wrote papers on their experiences.

By dividing into three sub-groups: grammar, reading, and speech and drama, the English department started to evaluate their curriculum.

German skits, Spanish puzzles

Foreign Language - Wie Gents? Muy bien, gracias. These are just a few of the words that the German I and Spanish I students learn. There were 48 students enrolled in the various Spanish classes while 60 students studied the German language. First year Spanish students learned basic vocabulary words and concentrated mainly on grammar. Third and fourth year students made Spanish games and they learned about Spanish cultures. German students played word games to learn how to spell the words while German II classes put on skits at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Calculators new addition

MATH - The Math Department purchased 30 new calculators which were introduced to the students as 7th graders. The 8th graders used them more extensively and math students in the high school learned how and where to apply the usefulness of a calculator.

A student teacher, Mr. Dan Oakes, assisted and taught Plane Geometry, Advanced Algebra and Academic Biology classes.

Formulas, gas, and new books

SCIENCE - Science classes have ventured into the many fields of Scientific study.

Jr. Hi science teacher, Mr. Dennis Feagler, gave his students the opportunity to work with microscopes and make cultures. The class also received new books.

Mr. Alan Hunter's Applied Life Science class studied evolution, ecology, and the metric system. Chemistry I and II students worked with formulas and did labs dealing with organic chemistry, gases, energy and rates of reaction.

Mr. Richard Capin's Physics class accumulated new microscopes for their experiments.

Mr. Cleo Miller's Biology classes acquired new books adopted for this year. A new course in Practical Biology was given for the non-college bound students, studying subjects that they would use in everyday life.

Guest speakers hold interest in History

SOCIAL STUDIES - History classes aren't all names and dates as Ms. Kathleen Roe proves. She provides her classes with many interesting speakers and projects.

The seventh grade Social Studies class held a mock trial during their study of Roman Law and acquitted all defendants.

A medieval pageant allowed the students to show their talents as minstrel singers, as models in a fashion show, and as knights in a jousting tournament.

The seventh graders also created the town of Garrett as it will look in the future. It included everything from moving sidewalks to inflatable stores.

The World History class used the video equipment to record skits about famous medieval people such as Joan of Arc and Richard the Lion-Hearted.

A lesson in archaeology was taught when the students made their own artifacts representing some item used in an ancient culture.

Guest speakers supplied the History classes with many interesting lectures. Included in these were Reverend James Spencer, who spoke about the Seminole Indians; Reverend Don Stillwell from the Henderson Settlement in the Appalachia Mountains in Kentucky; Reverend Wilfred Hodge who's from the Caribbean Islands; and Mr. Robert Carey a principal of a high school in Africa.

The junior U.S. History classes, being taught by Mr. Roderick Pressler and Mrs. Shirley Wallace, gave oral and written reports on subjects that interested them in history using the library reference materials. Mr. Virgil Finchum's Government classes used a number of films to more easily explain the complexity of our government.

FFA — Young McDonald Farm

AG - The Agriculture classes studied a variety of different subjects under the supervision of Mr. Andy Giegold. The Conservation class learned about the land and how to save it, while the Introductory Ag classes learned Parliamentary procedures and the FFA pledge. All Ag classes, with the help of FFA members, participated in organizing Young McDonald's Farm, a display of farm animals, for the students at the J. E. Ober School. Students in the Advanced Livestock Production class judged livestock and body structures. The livestock judging team went to Purdue University and Manchester College to witness judging contests and to compare livestock.

Special Ed learn skills

SPECIAL ED - The Junior and Senior High Special Ed class totaled 20 students; there are twelve in the high school, under Mrs. Vicky Short and eight Jr. Hi, under Mr. Thomas Robinson. There are three graduating seniors who were involved with Building Trades, Auto Mechanics and ICE. Two students are employed at the school in a pre-vocational work experience program. The main objective in high school is to develop work skills which would help someday to get a job. The Junior High worked on developing academic skills and participated in the 7th and 8th grade rotations.

First year camping offered

PHYS ED AND HEALTH -
Gymnastics classes learned the Hustle and Bump along with free exercise, trampoline, and balance beam routines. Advanced P.E. took a swing at tennis, golf, baseball and a shot at archery. They finished up with a strike at bowling and term papers. Other gym classes put their backs into pyramid building.

Health class students were turned into guinea pigs, while their peers bandaged them and practiced emergency use only.

A new one semester course in camping was offered for the first time at Garrett, instructed by Miss Lenore Lewis. The eight students which made up the class worked on the fundamental skills of camping and took a camping trip.

Early band practice pays off at DeKalb fair

BAND - Training before school began in August paid off for the Marching Railroaders. After marching their way to 3rd place in the DeKalb County Fair they participated in Ball State Band Day. At a Convocation, Ed Roush presented to the band a flag that had flown over the Capitol. They also worked hard performing football pre-game and half-time shows. The Pep Band wore new T-shirts at the Basketball games. The Band raised $1100 from the Tag Sale for the Band parents and uniform funds. Mr. Dave Silden, director, taught a music theory and history class to five music students. The 3rd annual Pops Concert was a success presented by the concert and Junior High bands, brass choir, and the new jazz combo. The Band went to a Manchester College concert to listen to and learn the qualities of higher music. 14 first place ratings were received at the NISBOVA Solo and Ensemble contest. Kathy Nuttle and Jerry Sigler also received firsts at State contest. Sue Griffin received a perfect 7 on her piano and also went to State.

In the spring the concert band competed in a contest. They also spent a day at an amusement park. The annual banquet held in the Ober Cafeteria marked the end of the season for the bands.

Swing Choir places first

CHORUS - By singing and giving different programs throughout the year, the choral groups received enough donations to purchase new outfits. The girls' outfits were light blue dresses, while the guys chose navy blue blazers and grey pants. Programs they played were: DeKalb County Fair, Rome City Country Club, Lincoln Day Dinner at DeKalb High School, and County Highway Christmas Party.

Swing Choir received 1st place in a contest at Snider High School. Twenty-three solos received 1st place and another twenty-three received 2nd place. Abby Kennedy, Vickie Casselman, and Carol Andrews went to the state contest as a trio. Cindy Hall went to the state contest as a solo.

Students make string puppets

ART - First semester Art classes did charcoal drawings, pastels and watercolors. Students were aided by 80 art books funded by the library, stationed in the Art room.

Tie-dyeing, candlemaking and puppetry were 2nd semester projects that differed from normal. Mr. Larry Earhart had an advanced class of 3 students. The 2 seniors and 1 junior had signed up as teaching assistants and found themselves in Mr. Earhart's prep period. Throughout the year the 3 did projects of their own choice. Classes previously known as Ceramics and Pottery became Art I, II, III, IV so students could study broader areas.

From babies to omelets

HOME EC - There were many mixed emotions of the Adult Living students after they visited McKee's Funeral Home. Some enjoyed the experience while others didn't. April Perkins commented, "It gave me an uneasy feeling just being there."

Child development gave bath demonstrations for young children. They also visited Wee Haven, Kindergarten class, and Head Start to observe the behavior of young children. Foods cooked everything from omelets to foreign dishes. The Housing class selected paint, wallpaper, and cabinets for the Building Trades house. The Home Ec department had the tables resurfaced to make them more attractive.

BUSINESS - Business courses were very productive in learning the many facets of the business world.

The Personal Typing class worked on the fundamental skills of typing.

Typing I learned to type the many forms of business letters. The Typing II class worked on increasing their speed and accuracy; they also ran off dittos and stencils.

Shorthand I and II tried to build up speed and worked on correct punctuation. The Shorthand II class got a little inside information on what an employer expects of new workers by interviewing the personnel of a business.

Business Machines learned to operate the various kinds of office machines and do filing.

The General Business students each worked up a budget and tried to follow it for a month.

The Business Lab sent students into the community for on the job interviews.

OFFICE HELP - Seven students aided in the efficiency of the office this year. With their prompt and courteous actions, taking up attendance, running the ditto machines and delivering the absence sheets, the office was maintained in a business-like manner.

AUDIO VISUAL - A.V. started a new program giving students a half credit per semester. Students took on new responsibilities for setting up equipment, saving teachers time and effort. Both morning and evening announcements were read by A.V. students. Four new projector carts and one projector were added to A.V. equipment.

Taking a load off teachers

LIBRARY HELP - Through thirteen assistants, Librarian, Miss Leslie Wise, was aided in keeping the many books and periodicals organized. Her helpers had certain duties to perform each period and weekly. These jobs included weekly inventory of books and periodicals, daily issuance of overdue notices, and teacher assistance in finding filmstrips and reference materials. Miss Wise stated, "My assistants take a great load off my hands."

Vocational: new outlooks

Vocational classes got a look at the business world with the help of field trips and lectures.

The Drafting class, instructed by Mr. Robert Ewing, got information on architecture and electricity from Mr. Hayes of ITT. Greg Gerber was chosen to design the plans for next year's Building Trades House.

Two girls, Jeri Hurd and Cindy Treadwell joined Auto Mechanics class. They worked on basic maintenance of the car, then began on complete engine building. They took tours of Dana and International Harvester.

Building Trades completes two-story house

The Building Trades class worked on improving their perspective of the world of construction, by building a two story house instead of a one story house like last year.

Mr. Owen Bradley spent the first semester teaching his twenty students in the two classes about buying land, and the skills they would need to know about building the house. When they learned these things they went right to work, trying to get the outside of the house done so they could work inside when winter weather set in.

The plans for the house were drawn up by Tim Griffin, a senior. The 3 bedroom house has a sunken living room and a brick fireplace. A large workshop is located off of the garage.

The class got a little extra experience in plastering after Curt Custer and Tim Griffin fell through the ceiling. The stonework for the house was overseen by John Morningstarr, a mason.

Industrial Arts do cabinets and license plates

The Industrial Arts Classes kept students busy making a variety of different objects. Mr. George Wilmore taught 7th and 8th grade Industrial Arts and Woods I, II, III and IV. The 7th grade Industrial Arts class made candleholders while the 8th graders constructed wall sections. Basic skills were learned in Woods I and II while cabinet work was done in Woods III and IV. The Metals I and II students, under the guidance of Mr. Willie Wellhausen, spent their time making hammers and toolboxes. Eagles and license plates were also projects of the Metals classes. They also worked with hand tools and machine projects.

HEY, THIS IS HOW WE

SPORTS - Hey, this is how we compete. Being a player, a cheerleader or a pom pom girl.

Jumping around in the stands, screaming your head off when the time runs out and you've just beaten your arch rival. The mixed emotions as the score is so close and it is near the end of the game. Listening to the new jazz band during half-time. Going home with a sore throat from yelling. This is sports - how we compete.

COMPETE

"I enjoyed being a Mat-Maid because I learned what the sport was and helped to boost the guys' moral."

April Perkins

"I think sports are an important part of school. It gets almost everyone involved in some way."

Kim Jensen

"I love sports but this year didn't catch my attention. I went to all the games and I know how hard the guys practice."

Deanna Bowmar

"Cross-Country-Past season was best season at GHS history. Won 13 - lost 3. It was hard during summer training. Later it was easier after I got in shape and the team kept winning meets. Team finished 2nd in conference."

Tim Lantz

"Girls sports have not been around for very long in GHS, but because of the hard work and enthusiasm, our skills have improved quite a lot."

Linda Wilcoxson

Cross-Country 2nd in conference

The 1976 Cross Country team had the most successful overall season in the history of GHS, as they recorded a 13-3 record. They finished as runner-up in the NEIC conference. "We've been waiting four years to do this," exclaimed Tim Griffin. Three runners, all Seniors, made the all-conference team. These were Tim Griffin, Tim Lantz, and Dan Hathaway. This was Griffin's third such honor. For the first time a meet was held during half time of a varsity football game. Garrett beat Angola 17-44. A vigorous summer practice schedule, coupled with the team's self-discipline, resulted in excellent conditioning for the seasoned Harriers. The Third Annual Cross-Country Marathon added to the summer training program. The benefits from this event went to the Joe Velpel Fund. Second year Coach, Steve Porter was "very pleased by this season, and is anxiously waiting the 1977 season."

Combination season

The 1976 football season was two seasons in one. After losing their first four games the G-Men traveled to Angola to face the unbeaten and conference leading Hornets. The Railroaders squeezed out a 22-21 upset, for their initial mark in the win column.

From here they went on to post victories in three of their next four games. Coming off the loss to Leo, the G-Men defeated Lakeland by a score of 14-6 for their second win of the year. The next opponent for the Railroaders was arch rival DeKalb. Garrett was able to prevail, as the clock ran out on DeKalb's rally, by a narrow margin of 8-6. The margin of victory being DeKalb's failure to convert for two points after their TD. The Railroaders claimed their third consecutive win at the expense of South Adams. Scoring with just six seconds remaining, the G-Men came out on top in the highest scoring game of 40-36. The Railroaders could not stretch their string of wins, as Woodlan upended Garrett in the final game. Named to the NEIC all-conference teams were Senior Randy Smith, first team, defensive safety; Junior Rick Jester, first team linebacker; and Senior Rick McClish; second team offensive back. Smith also was named as an offensive end on the all-area team.

The Third Annual Carson Culler Award was presented to Randy Smith and Rick McClish. The two tied in the players balloting for the Most Valuable Player Award.

Defensive unit strong

The reserve football team finished their season with a 2-4-2 record. Head Coach Denny Feagler and Assistant Coach Willie Wellhausen had much praise for the young Railroaders. Mr. Feagler said, "that defense was a very strong point this year. The defense unit was able to keep the opposing team from scoring many points in most games."

When asked what their best game was the team responded, "the Columbia City game!" This game was away and Garrett was trailing. In the closing seconds Jed Feagler fired a pass to Gregg Grubb for the winning touchdown. The majority of the games resulted with close scores.

Both Coach Feagler and Coach Wellhausen felt that Tom Esselburn should be recognized this year. He was a split end but many times had to play quarterback. Other comments by the coaches included "that offensive and defensive teams were to be congratulated."

Beat DeKalb first time

"Losing their first four games made them move on the fifth. In this game we were playing arch rivals, DeKalb, in what had to be the sweetest victory of the year," stated Coach Dick Boyd. The Freshmen beat DeKalb 12-7. That was the first time in three years the boys on the team had beaten them.

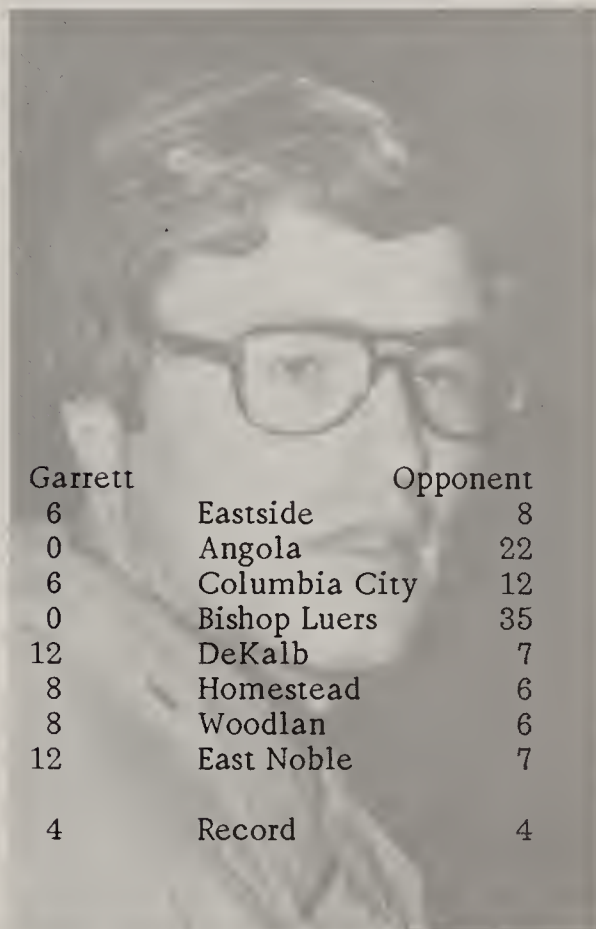

Against the East Noble Knights the Railroaders "had their best offensive showing." Defeated were the Knights, 24-14.

Outstanding offensively was tailback Randy Mosley, with 661 yards. Mosley was also leading scorer with 36 points. Also Paul Ewing had 293 yards offensively.

Defensive standards were led by Bob Isham, 71 tackles. Others playing "fine defense" were Dennis Hile and Todd Marti. The Frosh team ended with a 4-4 record.

7th beat Leo 12-6

"The seventh grade football team played competitively this season," commented Coach Jim Hecksel. The junior G-Men's first game against Angola ended in a tie. In their second game they beat DeKalb by a touchdown. "Since this was the first season playing organized football the rivalry against DeKalb started in style," said Coach Hecksel. The young Railroaders chalked up another victory. At Kendallville the field was slippery, which caused the punter to slip and fall. This break the Knights used to score a drive. The Eastside powerhouse beat Garrett by two touchdowns.

In the game also against Angola the eighth grade team tied. Rallying up against DeKalb, Garrett was on top. Adding another victory to the column of wins, the G-Men beat Leo 12-6. In the first half Kendalville made two touchdowns. The Railroaders fell short by one touchdown in the second half. Avilla and Eastside won over in order.

Teams have handicap

With a young team the 1976 volleyball team accomplished a 10-7 record. There were two seniors, Kay Cornell and Tracey Johnson. The volleyers suffered more injuries this year than in the past. Also this season, new types of offensive and defensive plays were learned and used. Separate offensive and defensive teams were played. "We had a handicap because of learning how to play a different style," expressed Coach Pat Packard, "it was not quite a .500 season ( $\frac{1}{2}$  won and  $\frac{1}{2}$  lost)." The G-Women during sectionals came out on top over Prairie Heights, 2-0, and Fremont, 2-1. Playing DeKalb in the last game, the Railroaders fell by a 0-2 score. "They did fantastic at sectionals. We would have had a better chance at beating DeKalb if they wouldn't have had to play twice on one night," said Coach Packard. Against Angola, "Reserve and Varsity were evenly matched and they played the best," said captain Kay Cornell. Garrett faced Angola twice in the season.

Thiel second Sectional champ

The 1976 wrestling team finished the highest ever this year. Four wrestlers, Dan Thiel, Raymond Perry, Jeff Morris, and Todd Marti went to Regionals. Dan Thiel placed fourth in the 167 weight class and Raymond Perry, fourth in the heavy weight division.

At Sectionals the G-Men placed in every division but two. Overall the team finished in third place. Dan

Thiel was the second sectional champion in the history of Garrett wrestling. He took first in the 167 class. A second was earned by Jeff Morris in the 126 division. Conference placings were Jeff Morris, second and Dan Thiel, third.

This year's co-captains were Seniors Tony Flesch and Rick Getts. "We improved since last year. A lot of our matches were close and we didn't wrestle at a couple we could have won," commented co-captain Tony Flesch. There were twenty-eight wrestlers this year. This was a larger team than in the past.

Jr. Hi wrestling team large

Jr. High Wrestling ended its first full season with a 2-4 record. Garrett was victorious over Leo, 44-37 and Avilla, 53-47. The team consisted of 25 wrestlers from the 7th and 8th grades.

Chuck McPheeters, wrestling the 155 weight class, established the best personal record of 9-0. He also had the most pins, with six. Of the seventh grade wrestlers, Rick Abbott led with a record of 5-3. The school pinning record of 19 seconds was made by Kent Davis and Chuck McPheeters.

Garrett placed sixth in the Central Noble Tourney. "For never wrestling in a tourney we did great having one win," commented Coach Willie Wellhausen. Chuck McPheeters won the 155 weight class in the Central Noble Tourney. Coach Wellhausen said, "We hope to do well again."

Low Class-No Class wins

The Low Class-No Class fought back against the ZZ-Bottom to defeat the defending champs, in the title game of the intramural championships.

The all senior Low Class-No Class team were: Coach Rick McClish, Tim Griffin, Dan Bradley, Jeff Bartels, Jim Treesh, Tim Lantz, Kevin Pfefferkorn, Bill Muzzillo. The Intramural program, under the direction of Mr. Willie Wellhausen, began with six teams but only two finished the season. ZZ-Bottom placed second.

First year at girls intramurals tennis was "very successful" said sponsor Miss Peggy Ignatz. The girls started the week before spring break, and played every Saturday morning 8-10, if the weather was nice. The 12 girls met at the city tennis courts and plan to do so next year.

Varsity has three returning lettermen

The Railroaders, under second year Coach Larry Piety, returned only three lettermen. These were Seniors Randy Smith, Mark Martin, and Rick McClish from last year's squad. This lack of experience enabled two freshmen Andy Herzer and Chris Winans to make the team. Both saw a considerable amount of action throughout the year. Despite their inexperience, the G-Men battled to a 6-14 mark on the season. In conference action, they posted a 2-7 mark. The two conference victories came over South Adams and Columbia City, each by a single basket.

Randy Smith was the leading scorer as well as leading rebounder for the year. He was closely contested for scoring honors by Mark Martin and Kerry Oster.

Smith was also named to the Second Team All-NEIAC, while Mark Martin received Honorable Mention. Martin also established a new "consecutive free throws in practice" mark by hitting 64 straight free throws.

Reserves see Varsity action

This year's Reserve basketball team consisted of nine sophomores and two freshmen. Leading scorers were sophomore Jed Feagler with 125 points and freshman Chris Winans with 95 points. The team achieved a 4-11 record.

The Railroaders won their first game against Central Noble with 40-27. Harry Yarian in the last seconds of the game broke a tie to overcome Homestead, 35-34. "Even though we lost, our best showing was against Carroll," said Coach Danny Feagler.

Reserve players Andy Herzer, Chris Winans, Steve Steigmeyer, and Jed Feagler saw Varsity as well as Reserve action. "These players as well as the other team members had a good overall improvement," commented Coach Feagler.

Frosh go to Eastside Tourney

This year's Freshman team lost two players, Chris Winans and Andy Herzer to the Varsity team. "It opened up an opportunity for the other members to do more playing," said Coach Dick Capin.

Garrett's Freshmen went to the Eastside Tourney, losing in the finals to Central Noble, 40-26. "Going to the Eastside Tourney gave us confidence and it was the turnover of the season," commented Bill Sherwood. At the Carroll game the Frosh team stayed evenly scored till the end. "Improvement showed since Carroll beat other teams that we played," explained Gregg Grubb.

Leading scorers were Gregg Grubb with 66 points and Bill Sherwood with 60 points. For the season Doug Overy had 40 rebounds and Bill Sherwood, 36.

Kay Cornell on All-Area Team

This year was the first for a Girl's All-Area Basketball Team. Senior Kay Cornell was chosen for the All-Area Second Team. The decision was made by sportswriters of the Evening Star and News Sun for the team choices. Marsha Shaw and Kay Cornell were named to the All-Conference Second Team. Garrett started the season with a win over arch-rival DeKalb, 33-30. At the Garrett Tourney the girls won the consolation game, defeating Angola, 48-42. The G-Women picked up its last victory of the season by winning over New Haven, 28-26 in the first round of the NEIAC Conference.

"This was a year of teaching fundamentals, good sportsmanship, and team spirit. Every player improved her fundamentals 100% by hard work and desire. However this is one aspect of the game that is not always reflected in the won-lost record," said Coach Roderick Pressler.

Jr. Hi has successful season

This year's 8th grade basketball team finished the season with a 12-5 record. The team won their first game over Columbia City by a close score of 44-43. "We improved last year's season and this season towards the end," commented Coach Dave Neal. Injuries this season consisted of two sprained ankles. "I think we'll have a great year next year," said Todd Piety.

For the first season of basketball, the 7th grade team had a 3-10 record. St. Joseph and Eastside were overpowered by the Jr. Railroaders by large margins. Coach Steve Porter explained, "They did well for their first season with technique and form." Both Coach Neal and Coach Porter expressed feelings that this year's seasons were successful.

Perry breaks discus record

Ten returning lettermen were under the direction of Mr. Willie Wellhausen. Coach Wellhausen said "Potential for the last three years have made it the best team effort, due to scoring."

Six Seniors: Dan Somers in the high jump, Mike Morsches in the shot put, Brian Flesch in the quarter mile, Lars Sorensen in the 440, Tim Griffin in the mile and Tim Lantz in the mile run. The seniors held their own against the fifteen freshmen on the team. The fifteen freshmen participated in a variety of events, placing tenth in the conference run.

Dan Somers edged Roger Creager's record with a ten foot clearance. Raymond Perry broke the 1974 record of Kevin Derrow's of 136 feet and 6 inches, with a throw of 136 feet and 8 inches. Perry also came within one inch of breaking the shot put record. "I think we put in a lot of hard work and a lot of time to get where the coach led us." commended Brian Flesch.

Several records broken

The lady Railroaders of Garrett opened their first meet against Lakeland and Fremont, coming up second out of three. This is significant of the rest of the season with a majority of losses.

The track team coached by Mrs. Pat Packard and Ms. Kathy Roe broke several records. Tami Nierman broke the 220 record for 29.7 to 28.9. Karen Dirksen broke the 1969 record with a 68.4 time in the 440 dash. The 440 relay record was broken from 57.0 to 56.4 by Tammi Piety, Kim Velpel, Lisa Roehm, and Gale Scott. In the 880 medley relay the girls ran from the old record of 2:09 to a new record of 2:00.0 flat.

An outstanding Senior, Kay Cornell was the high scorer with 65 points. She ran the 880 yard relay which she broke along with Gale Scott, Patty Schultz and Tami Nierman. Kay Cornell was the only girl to go to sectionals for hurdles and high jump.

Three records broken

This year's Jr. High track team was divided into three sections of 8th, 7th, and girls teams. Coaches for the season were Jim Hecksel and Roderick Pressler. "I thought the members did quite well individually but together the effort couldn't overcome the foe," said Coach Hecksel.

There were Jr. High records broken this year. Bob Putt broke the 440 dash record with a time of 58.4. The mile relay team record was broken by Bob Putt, Chuck McPheeters, Tony Surfus, and Dave Daley with a 4.24.6 time. Kent Davis threw a record 48 feet 11½ inches for the shot put.

Creager, Bowmar co-medalists

"We are very much improved over last season and proved to be competitive with just about everyone we played," stated Coach Cleo Miller on the performance of his team.

Tony Creager and Scott Bowmar were co-medalists in setting a new team record. They both had 37's while Jeff Morris and Les Grawcock both had 38's to help set the new record of 150 against Leo. These four key golfers of the team have been under Coach Miller's quidance since their Freshman year.

With a team composed of all underclassmen, the future seasons should improve to be great if team members will work hard to improve their game over the season.

This year's baseball team consisted of 29 members. There were seven returning lettermen and four Seniors: Todd Custer, Bob Petcoff, Rick McClish, and Kerry Oster.

GHS's asphalt parking lot was the workout area because bad weather prevented the diamond from being worked on.

The Railroaders placed 3rd in the NEIAC conference. Kim Payton pitched a record of 7 wins and 2 losses for the season. Calvin Clabaugh held the batting average with a .390.

Reserve baseball team had a total of 17 members with five going between varsity and reserves. The team's batting average was held by Shawn Koble and Kyle Flesher with .454 for both.

The reserve team played four area teams this season. The season's ending record was four wins and three losses.

Guys give cheerleaders a new lift

Bases were added this year to do cheers with the varsity cheerleaders. They were Seniors Dan Bradley, Bob Petcoff, Rick Getts, and Juniors Jeff Morris, Dan Thiel. With matching light blue shirts and jeans the bases flipped, twirled, and lifted the cheerleaders into new formations.

Jeanie Piety, wife of Coach Larry Piety, was the new sponsor for varsity, reserve, and freshman cheerleaders.

The Junior High cheerers also had Leslie Wise as a new sponsor. Swirl skirts, shoes, sweaters, and pom poms contributed to the new look. Bake sales provided money for a part of the new accessories. Junior High cheerleaders had a Breakfast of Champions for the seventh grade basketball team. The girls also decorated the halls for the DeKalb games.

Athletic Department buys outfits

For the first time in three years, outfits were bought for the Railettes.

In the past the outfits were made. There were six new girls this year and only four Seniors. A work schedule for each game was made up by Mr. John Hutton. New candy and a bigger bag of popcorn for the same price was added to the concession stand.

Also purchased this year were T-shirts for the Mat Maids. The maids made locker decorations and a hoop for the wrestlers.

This year's Pom Pom squad was limited to eight high school girls. Revision took place with new outfits and pom poms. DeLane Diller, a grade school gym teacher, was the new sponsor this year. During half time of football and basketball games, routines were done to various selections such as Superstar and Mickey Mouse. Along with varsity, reserve, and freshman cheerleaders the girls built large formations across the gym floor for the school song.

Five attend Golden Gloves

This year's DeKalb County Boxing Club had five Garrett members attend the Toledo Golden Gloves Championship. Placing in the Novice open class as a runner-up was Dave Walker; Dick Furnish received runner-up in the 132 pound Novice, and Tom Esselburn won the Novice 139 pound class in Golden Gloves.

Coach Ray Saxer stated, "We have Dan Somers, Ed Teller, Dave Walker, DeWayne Nodine, and Tom Esselburn receiving Honor Jackets." An Honor Jacket is earned by having 800 points and boxing four years. "It's hard to earn a jacket," explained Dan Somers. Somers earned his jacket in the least amount of time ever before in the history of the club. Ed Teller is the youngest one to ever have earned a jacket.

Practices consist of five rounds on the speed bag, ten rounds on the heavy bag, 20 minutes of warm-ups and sparring three rounds. The coaches are Ray Saxer, Ed Placencia, and Rubuin Conzeales.

Three new members elected to School Board

In the School Board election of 1976 three new members were elected.

They were: W. Harold Custer, Maurice Getts, and George Dykstra. A short time after the election, George Dykstra was offered the position of Assistant Principal, which he accepted and then resigned from the School Board. The School Board then appointed Donald Smith to replace him. At this time the School Board consists of W. Harold Custer, Maurice Getts, Joseph McCorkel, Charles Rowe, and Donald Smith.

The School Board approved the busing of students that lived on the north side of the B & O railroad tracks.

This busing began on November 1 for the service of approximately 60 students.

The public became involved in a controversy over the school calendar.

After considerable discussion and voicing of opinions a motion was made to accept a compromise program and the motion was passed. Under this plan school will begin September 6 and end May 31.

In 1976 school started two weeks before Labor Day and got out before Memorial Day. In 1977 school will start the day after Labor Day and get out the day after Memorial Day.

'That's My Cousin' opens Seniors' Dude Ranch

"That's My Cousin" was presented by the Senior class on Nov. 12 and 13. Directed by Mr. Larry Earhart and students Jamie Carroll and Alisa Reed, the story centered around two cousins, 'ACTUALLY.'

Kitty and Adele decided to open a dude ranch with the help of Carlton Up de Graff, the banker's son. To attract customers, they offered all guests of the Uranium Dude Ranch a chance to find "uranium". The ranch was soon swamped with guests.

But trouble began when Sheriff Henshaw became suspicious and guests wanted to leave. The fun continued as the Brooklyn girls really found uranium. All turned out well when Movie Star Tullina hooked Banker Up de Graff; Adele roped Director Kent; Husband Hunter Harriett got her thrills; Custer finally proposed to Millie the cook; and Kitty and Carlton admitted they were in love.

Mr. Earhart presented roses to the cast and bouquets to Bridget Waring and Steve Harmon.

Senior Awards Night complimented by many

Top scholastic honors of the Senior class were announced by Mr. Paul McFann at the Tri Kappa Honor Banquet on May 10. Sue Griffin was announced Valedictorian and the Salutatorian honor went to Susie Gingery. The top 10% were also recognized: Kay Cornell, Tony Flesch, Susie Gingery, Sue Griffin, Tracey Johnson, Kelly McFann, Paul Reffner, Renee Morr, Bill Muzzillo, Lars Sorensen, Kathy Vanderbosch, and Arnetta Von Holton.

Seniors remembered "The Way We Were" at Platner's on May 17, as Peggy Michaels, Steve Harmon, and Rick Getts sang the class song. Senior superlatives were announced and all Sr. Play cast members received pins.

At Awards Night, May 18, Seniors donned caps and gowns for awards and recognition. Mr. Paul McFann commented, "I've never seen an Awards Night go off so well!"

124 Seniors hold the 'Wings of the Future'

"Lend me the strength of the past and I will lend you the wings of the future, for I have them." The Seniors didn't know how well their motto applied; when walking up to receive their diplomas, the wind blew off some of their caps. On May 22, 124 Seniors graduated in the Bateman Gymnasium. Royal blue was chosen for the boys, with powder blue for the girls; NHS students wore white caps and gowns with gold tassels. Sue Griffin gave the Valedictory address with a scale of values. Sue said, "Rather than reflect further on the past I would like to look to the future." The Salutatory address by Susie Gingery stressed achievement of goals and desires.

Rev. Allen Reed gave the Commencement address and was "greatly impressed" with the class motto. He concluded by saying, "Class of 77, you have the past; we have given it to you. You have the wings of the future. Now go; fly your course high and brave and if need be, alone."

HEY! THIS IS HOW WE ARE

CLUBS - Hey, this is how we are Active. Meetings during activity period or after school. Getting activity cards. Having pizza or taco parties. Money-making projects such as selling stationery, art projects, quilts, candles and pinatas. Bake sales and ribbon sales also made money. Having Christmas, Easter and Halloween parties. Visiting old peoples' homes and going to skating rinks. Participating in clubs is how we are Active.

ACTIVE

"Students are involved with each other which gives them responsibilities."

Donna Mosley

"I don't think that enough people get involved in school activities."

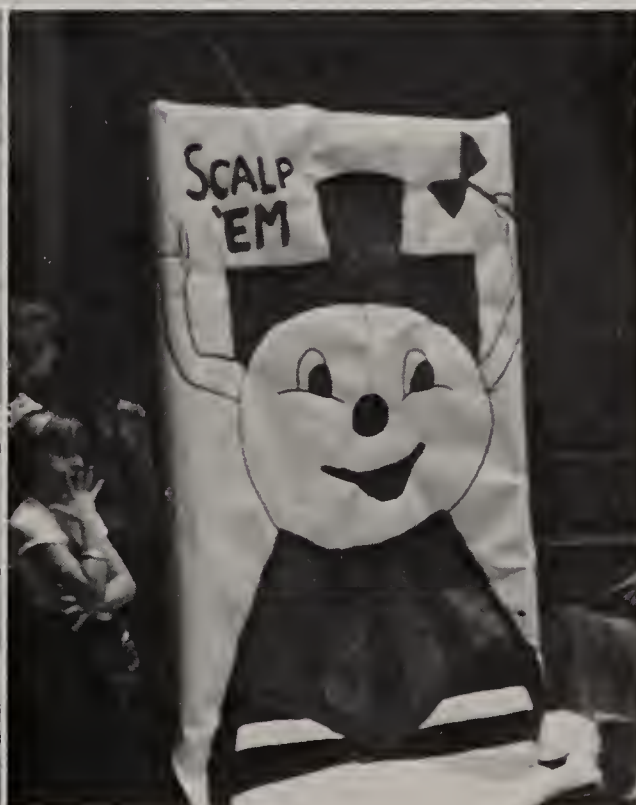

Lisa Ellert

"I'm in two clubs, Lettermans and FCA, and we don't hardly do anything. Lettermans could be one of the biggest clubs and the most active, but now without activity period we'll never have anymore meetings where we have a lot of guys show up."

Scott Bowmar

"OEA is my favorite club. It takes a lot of work because we have to raise a lot of money for State, but it's all worth it."

Valerie Gibson

Peggy Ignatz, first year as sponsor for GAA

GAA had a new sponsor, Miss Peggy Ignatz, for the twenty-five members. They also got new T-shirts, light blue with maroon trim, and the GAA emblem in the left hand corner. The girls met every Monday night after school, and one night had a football game on the field for the fun of it.

To keep in shape the girls used the new weight machine, and trampoline, and other gymnastic equipment.

GAA also sold Garrett Railroader license plates to make money for a bike trip during the summer. Summer meetings every two weeks were planned.

THESPIANS - Mr. Fred Siefers was the new advisor for Thespians. Mr. Seifers reorganized the Thespians to be assistants with the All School Production. The Thespians also went half and half with the Seniors in make-up for the Senior Play.

The costume department of the Thespians was enlarged as was the make-up department.

ART CLUB - Art Club had two hour workshops after school once a week, and members took turns bringing doughnuts, pizza, and apple cider for refreshments. During the workshops the Art Club members made plaster plaques, fuzzy-wuzzy bears and drawings to sell for their annual art sale, May 12 and 13.

The library allotted funds for eighty art books to be kept in the art room for references.

Pep Club buys sweaters, has bake sales

PEP CLUB - During the season Pep Club had different classes, put up locker decorations and made a hoop for the basketball players to jump through just before the game.

Pep Club sponsored a dance for the school near the end of the season.

For money making projects, Pep Club sold ribbons before the home games and also stationery. The money that the Pep Club made was used to pay for any girl's sectional ticket, if the girl went to all of the home games and at least two of the away games.

For the sectional pep session, the Juniors gave the players, managers, and coaches boats with candy and other peppy food.

The outfits for this year were maroon sweaters that have "Garrett Railroaders" on them. The underclassmen wore blue shirts under their sweaters, and the Seniors wore white shirts.

Pep Club had a total of 118 members in their Pep block.

Lettermen's Club plays faculty and loses

Lettermen's Club, sponsored by Mr.

Willie Wellhausen, focused their activities on competition and fun.

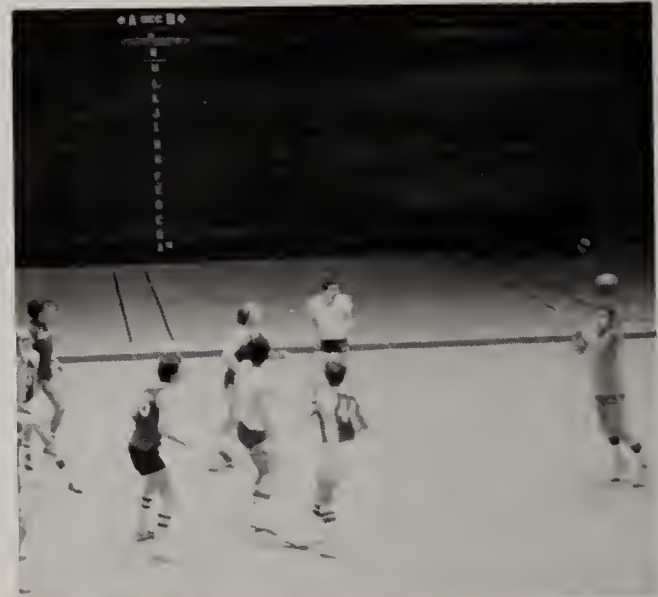

Ole Steve Kelham had a barn and Lettermen had a hayride. EIEIO. The 5 wagon hayride ended at Steve Kelham's barn which had been converted into a spookhouse. A total of $60 was made by the club.

A Lettermen's vs. Faculty Basketball game was held in February. The game went into overtime and the faculty scored two points to win the game.

The game made $103 for the Lettermen.

Railroader Review's first year in the business

THE SENIOR HIGH NEWSPAPER got off to a good start when the Freshmen decided to revive the idea of a school newspaper.

They held a meeting to appoint positions on the staff. The twelve members who made up the staff held a bake sale to raise money for their first issue this year; they made $100. The newspaper plans to publish four issues next year.

A contest was held to select a title for the newspaper with a free subscription as the prize. Mr. Andrew Giegold won with his entry, "The Railroader Review."

Pat and Wayne Bartels, owner of "The Clipper," will do the printing for the "Railroader Review."

FFA shows barn; FHA has swimming party

FFA proved to be one of the most active clubs of the year, with members selling everything from cider to rat poisoning.

An Arctic Frontier trip to Canada was sponsored in the summer and two students attended the Leadership Conference at Tri-State. The Livestock Judging team went to witness contests and a Hunter Safety class sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources was held outside school hours. Members were also active in participating with Young McDonald's Farm, a display of farm animals for the students at the J. E. Ober School. Money was earned by assembling a grain bin and one student won a pig at the Gilt Chain.

At the district contest, Bridget Waring won a second place award in the Sweetheart contest while Wendy Goldie received a second place in the FFA Creed Contest.

Convocations, dances and flower sales were among the numerous activities sponsored by Student Council. Live groups played at most of the dances, which were usually held after the football and basketball games. Flowers were sold twice during the year.

Student Council elections were held at the end of the year and the annual Candy Sale took place in March with Nancy Fourman serving as the chairman. Dan Hathaway was elected Turkey of the Year by the student body on Turkey Day. Contestants dressed up in their costumes and each gave a speech on the dumbest thing they had ever done.

Surveys were taken and petitions concerning the new school calendar were written and circulated throughout the school. The football and basketball homecomings were also sponsored.

Students were informed about major campaign issues by incumbent J. Edward Roush and newcomer Dan Quayle, republican. A convocation was held so students could ask questions.

Y-Teens sell goodies at football games

Members of Y-Teens served the school and community in numerous projects. Y-Teens bought glasses for a Jr. High student.

The forty-four members sold caramel apples and popcorn balls at football games. The November Installation was a formal ceremony in the Ober Auditorium. Refreshments were served in the pot luck supper. In the initiation ceremony they led the twenty new members through a table of unidentified objects, blind-folded. The unwary subjects were supposed to use the objects as they thought they were to be used.

Towards the end of the year Y-Teens took the Special Ed. to Franke Park for a sack lunch picnic.

NHS has Christmas party for Head-Start

NHS chose to wear white gowns and gold tassels for graduation. Sponsored by Psi Iota Xi, initiation included the explanation of the four qualities: Scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Each of the 20 initiates received a membership card and pin and a yellow rose.

For Head-Start, the club held a Christmas party in the old gym. Santa Claus, played by former teacher Mr. Robert Harmon, gave the children candy canes and felt snowmen filled with candy made by National Honor Society.

Sue Griffin and Bill Muzzilo were chosen to compete for the NHS Scholarship.

An Easter Party was also held for the Wee Haven children.

Spanish Clubs make piñatas for Christmas

Spanish Club and Spanish Honor Society members ate at Fort Wayne restaurants twice during the year. The clubs went to Don Pedro's, which served Mexican food. Seventeen people were in Spanish Club while Spanish Honor Society had only five members. Piñatas made of paper mâché were sold by Spanish Honor Society for Christmas. They were available either unfilled for $2 or filled with candy, gum and nuts for $4. Those who ordered piñatas could choose from a variety of different designs, including Mickey Mouse, Rudolph and Santa Claus. Spanish Club sold Spook Insurance for Halloween. For $1 those who bought the insurance could have their car or house cleaned after Halloween. Both the car and house were cleaned for $1.50. Spanish Club also had a Christmas party in December. Members ate tacos and played Spanish games.

After selecting the German colors of red, gold and black, and the motto, "Who dares not wants not," the club held an initiation Christmas party. Mr. Ludwig Appel presented slides taken in Germany.

Due to the cancellation of activity periods, plans of making and selling German cookbooks were postponed until next year.

OEA is one of the most productive clubs at Garrett. They sponsored many money making projects and supplied many services to the communities.

Members of OEA made two quilts and sold chances on them at the DeKalb County Fair. Val Gibson won an award for selling the most coloring books. Baked goods were sold in downtown Garrett. They sponsored the annual Semi-Formal in December. Halloween and Christmas parties were given for the kids at Wee Haven. The OEA members also went Christmas caroling in the community. They raised money for the United Fund and held a pizza party for OEA members.

A breakfast was held in honor of the basketball players and coaches. They sponsored the first "Superstars" in which students competed against chosen teachers. Jolene Johnson, Karen Feasel, Marsha Clady, Val Gibson, Kim Griffith, and Lori Kleeman placed in the district competition. Four students competed for regional championships, then went to state. They were Lori Lampe, Jamie McPheeters, Penny Griffin, and Vicki Diederich. Vicki was also chosen the district member of the year.

Student Council sponsors ski trip

Jr. High Student Council sponsored activities under the supervision of the sponsors Mr. Steve Stocker and Mr. Ronald Reeves. These included dances, a roller skating party and a ski trip. The ski trip was to Mt. Wawasee with 68 students, consisting of Student Council members and any Jr. High student who wanted to go. The trip started at 4 in the morning and ended at 10:30 p.m. A Junior High dance in February starred a rock group "Fragile." The Junior High Student Council students supplied refreshments to sell at all Jr. High dances. A car wash was sponsored to raise money for a record hop.

Aeolian changes companies; Advisor's last year

"I didn't realize that yearbook was a twenty-four hour job," said Jamie Carroll. The cutting of activity period led to long hours after school to make deadlines. In preparation for Yearbook Productions, four students, Kathy Carr, Val Griffin, Kathy Nuttle, and Cindy Walker went to a week-long yearbook production class at Tri-State University. It wasn't all picnics and fun; the girls had to turn in all assignments before their 3 a.m. deadline, the last night before leaving. Greg Langfeldt took a Photography class at I.U. Purdue, one day a week for 15 weeks during the summer. The 5 brought back many ideas on yearbooks.

Val Griffin and Mrs. Dorothy Feightner went on a one-day workshop at Notre Dame. After seeing all that was offered, the staff and Mrs. Feightner chose to go with Taylor Publishing Company for publishing the book.

Seniors have active last year; futures vary

"I plan to get a job and work awhile, then I may go to college."

Rita Kepple

"My plans are to be married in June, continue working in an office and go to night school for further education."

Linda Walter

"I plan on working during the summer and then I'll pack my bags and head down to Bloomington where I will live at Indiana University. I plan to study
Biological Sciences or Medical Technology. Truthfully, I'm uncertain what will be the path I take in the future, but I will never forget the past
I've enjoyed at GHS."

Alisa Reed

"I am going to be a mother and wife and later go to school to become a beautician."

Tonia Baker

"In September I'm planning to attend International Business College and become a legal secretary."

Rhonda Williams

"I'm going to Springfield, Missouri to Central Bible College. I intend to take courses in children's education and music. Hopefully, I will go to this college in August."

Peggy Michaels

"I'm going to be working at Lincoln Life in Fort Wayne and I'm planning on traveling a lot. I've already set my goal, and that is winning the National
High School Rodeo Finals in Helena,
Montana this year."

Tina Foster

"I plan to work and save my money to go on to a business, but I really do not know."

Pat Omspacher

"I'm going to get a job, sit back and take it easy, then decide if I want to go to college."

Cindy Lash

"Party, and build my own kick wheel and make my own pottery to sell and give away. I might go to night school for classes in art and pottery. I think the class of '77' should have a reunion the summer of '78,' and party some more and some more."

Pat Kleeman

"I will enroll at a four year college and major in an Engineering or Mathematically related field."

Bill Muzzillo

"I plan to go to college and further my knowledge of research and physics. I then plan to come back to Garrett and teach Physics. Judging by the vast amount of respect law people get, I might be a plumber."

Lars Sorensen

"Work through the summer and go to a trade school for diesel or car mechanics, or go to college to become a Forest Ranger or something in that order."

Mark Cleveland

"I am going to go to a lake and have a good time all summer, then I'm going to a navigation school for a year and be a carpenter in my spare time."

Paul Beber

"I plan on getting a job at a factory and making some cash."

Lynn Delauder

"Go to Indiana - Purdue University and study business."

Paul Reffner

"I plan to work during the summer and attend a college during the fall, after that I haven't even thought about."

Bob Petcoff

"Go to Florida and live there until the end of the summer and party down."

Jeff Brooks

"After I get out I'm going to look for a job and if I don't get one by Oct. 10th, then I will join the Air Force. In '79"

I'm going to get married if we're still together by then."

Carol Hammond

"Go to I.U. - P.U. in Fort Wayne and make some money. I'll take Industrial Engineering Technology."

Todd Custer

"I am going to I.U. - P.U. in Fort Wayne and I'm going to major in Business Administration."

Denny Smith

"I'm going to get a job as a secretary or something in that profession."

Debbie Claxton

"I'm going to Tri-State University to major in accounting. I would like to get a job at a firm in this area. In a few years I hope to get married."

Val Griffin

"I'm currently planning to attend college next fall. I'm interested in teaching elementary school. I want to major in elementary education and because of my interest in sports I would like to minor in P.E. so that I could coach J.H. or H.S. girls volleyball or track teams. I will be taking a four year course."

Kay Cornell

"I plan to go to college and work. In college I plan to major in chemistry or biological science."

Debby Scott

"I plan to attend Parkview Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. I am enrolled to take my class work at Purdue extension in Fort Wayne in August."

Julie Englert

Activities fill final days

"I'm moving to Fort Wayne with another girl from Garrett and I'm going to go to International Business College for 10 months' secretarial work. In the meantime I'm taking two writing classes at Westbrook College. After that, who knows what I'll be doing. But maybe you might read one of my books in the future."

Karen Feasel

"See some sites."

Dan Bradley

"I plan on getting a job and farming with my dad."

Tim Griffin

"I'm going to Northwestern Business College to study at their automotive school to be a mechanic."

Terry Miller

"Just a week ago I bought a lake property with my brother. We went half-and-half. We're planning on having a house built up there by August. I will be working for my dad in construction, building houses, plastering, dry wall, etc."

Doug Ashenfelter

The 1977 Garrett Aeolian was printed by Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas. The representative for Taylor is Mr. Jim Bell. The Garrett Clipper provided newspaper clippings and pictures. All underclass and Senior mugs, club and team pictures plus candid shots were taken by Mr. Blaine Feightner and his assistant Mr. Dan Camp. Prestige Portraits of Muncie and McJon of Fort Wayne developed the film. Our thanks to all these people.

All body copy was printed in 10 pt., IBM type. Captions were printed in 8 pt. type. Headlines were either 36 or 72 pt., Spartan style. Formatt No. 5501 lettering was used on division pages.

Special thanks go to Mrs. Dorothy Feightner, our advisor, who helped us make this yearbook what it is. Since this is her last year, we would like to dedicate this yearbook to her for all her patience, hard work and advice.
